

EURINR

EURINR after making recent high of 79.30 is moving in south direction. Pair is in middle of strong down trend and it is breaking all short term supports. First it fell below trend line then 50 DMA is also broken quite easily. In Friday's session it has further gone below support of 78.80. We expect this down trend to continue and low of 78.20 to get tested.

USDINR

USDINR after testing recent low of 70.80 is trying to consolidate around these levels. Price from last few sessions is moving up and retracing previous fall. Pair broke range on up side and steadily moving forward. In this up trend USD has formed rising wedge pattern which is bearish and looks vulnerable for fall. If pair is not able to sustain above 71.40 levels then we could see strong down side move towards 71.00 levels in intraday.

CPO

Crude palm oil from last five months was in upwards trajectory and price has moved up significantly by 66% in this period. CPO which made low of 492 in month of July and tested all time high of 844 recently. But in last few sessions we are observing price has changed its course and now it is heading downwards. In this fall it has breached rising trend line which was acting as a support. We expect after a substantial rise CPO heading for some corrective move.

Zinc

Zinc is broadly trading in range of 177 to 184 levels from last two months. Recently price moved to high of 184.45 levels. This levels acted as strong resistance and in last week we witnessed price moving quite sharply down wards. Interestingly 50 DMA is also placed at this very levels of 184. On downside there is support at 177.50 levels. We expect this base metal to remain in pressure and low of 177 to get tested.
